NEW ABSOLUTE TRUST TALK EPISODE

SOLUTIONS TO COMMON
REAL ESTATE ISSUES

HOGE • FENTON

Sometimes, people will leave their property to more than one heir, and while this may seem like a good idea because the inheritance can be divided equally, it often can lead to problems. The ultimate goal is to find a resolution without fighting, even if the parties involved might disagree along the way. Oftentimes, you can manage that before attorneys get involved with proper estate planning. In this episode, we discuss common real estate issues like this and more with civil litigation expert Steven

Kahn who is the Real Estate & Use Chair of Hoge Fenton. Click here to learn more.
