

HOGE FENTON ADDS BUSINESS LITIGATION ASSOCIATE DANIEL J. MARSH

Hoge Fenton expands its business litigation and real estate litigation practices with the addition of attorney Daniel J. Marsh. Daniel will represent clients with complex corporate and partnership disputes, contract disputes, and professional liability matters. In addition, he has specific expertise in business insurance coverage and insurance bad faith litigation.

Prior to joining Hoge Fenton, Daniel worked at Willoughby, Stuart, Bening & Cook as a litigation associate, and before that at the law firm of Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman & Dicker LLP in San Francisco, and Slater Hersey & Lieberman LLP in San Rafael.

Daniel is a graduate of the University of California at Davis School of Law and earned his B. A, cum laude, from Loyola Marymount University. Before law school, Daniel spent two years working for the United States Peace Corps in Mali assessing and addressing the needs of the community through sustainability projects.

“With experience in business litigation, real estate litigation, and insurance coverage, Daniel is the perfect fit for Hoge Fenton,” said Alison Buchanan, Chair of the firm’s Business Litigation practice group. “Our litigation clients have varied and complex needs, and Daniel reflects the high caliber and quality Hoge Fenton clients expect. Also, he is firmly committed to our four touchstones: to be trusted by our clients and the community, committed to the legal profession, a benefit to our community, and a caring business. We are thrilled to have him join the team.”

We are pleased to have Daniel on board, and hope you have a chance to meet him soon.
