Hoge Fenton Expands Pro Bono Programs

The past 12 months have brought unprecedented challenges. Small businesses in underserved communities have been hit particularly hard. Hoge Fenton is proud to announce our partnership with "Start Small Think Big, Inc." This partnership expands our capability to deliver free (pro bono) legal services to entrepreneurs who are of color, women, members of disadvantaged groups, and members of underserved communities.

"Community and Diversity are in our DNA. This effort focuses our pro bono efforts on the local businesses who truly need them, while supporting diversity in our Bay Area business communities," commented Managing Shareholder Dan Ballesteros.

Hoge Fenton has a legacy of supporting diversity and delivering pro bono services to the communities in which we practice. In 2020, the firm contributed 345 hours of pro bono work alone.
