

MACCRELL INTERNATIONAL IN CHAMBERS GUIDE AS LEADING GLOBAL NETWORK FOR THIRD YEAR RUNNING

Mackrell International (MI) has secured its third consecutive ranking in the Chambers Directory as a world-leading global network. Hoge Fenton, which has been a member of MI since 2015, is one of 90 members representing 4500 lawyers working in 60 countries. In the last 12 months, the network has boosted its coverage in Africa with new members in Nigeria and Mauritius, added Costa Rica to the South American offer, and can now offer pan-Australian coverage through Hive Legal in Melbourne.

Sblend Sblendorio, Hoge Fenton, said: "As our clients become more global, our firm must be able to serve their needs. Belonging to a quality network like MI means that our clients receive the best possible international advice. Where ever our clients conduct business, we are able to assist."

Clive Mieville, managing director of MI, said: "This kind of acknowledgement in a leading directory is testament to the growing power of international networks as alternative to global law firms. Clients can be reassured about the work and commitment to quality of all our member firms."

25% of MI member firms are ranked in the Chambers directories including 232 leading individuals.
