Effective June 15, 2021, the California Department of Public Health (CDPH) has announced the state will advance beyond the Blueprint for a Safer Economy, allowing businesses to return to normal operations with “common-sense risk reduction measures.”

In parallel with the state reopening, Cal/OSHA is in the process of finalizing its revised Emergency Temporary Standards (ETS), which will dictate COVID-related restrictions and requirements in the workplace.

Join us for an informative panel discussion on Wednesday, June 16, 2021, from 3:00 to 4:00 p.m. as Hoge Fenton's Employment Law team will explain the new legal guidelines for California employers.

Our Employment Law Team

Sarju Naran is a zealous advocate for his clients and approaches litigation with creativity and strategy. Chair of Hoge Fenton's Employment Law Group, Sarju's experience spans from representing middle-market and family-owned closely held businesses to large multi-national companies. He regularly litigates and provides advice and counsel to companies on wage and hour issues, trade secret misappropriation, employee mobility, wrongful termination, performance management, and leaves of absence.

Jenn Protas helps employers navigate California's numerous employment laws and defends employers with an eye toward successful, yet cost-effective resolution. Jenn is a committed advocate for her clients and a tenacious litigator. She defends employers on matters related to wage and hour law, wrongful termination, harassment, discrimination, and retaliation in single-plaintiff litigation, Private Attorney General Act actions, and/or class actions. Jenn's practice also includes housing discrimination matters and business litigation.

Maysa Saeed is an associate attorney in Hoge Fenton's Employment Law Practice Group. Her practice focuses on employment counseling and litigation and assists clients in all aspects of employment law. Prior to joining Hoge Fenton, Maysa was a litigation associate with experience litigating various commercial, employment, and real estate matters. Maysa's litigation experience provides her with invaluable insight and perspective when advocating and advising clients to resolve or prevent legal disputes.
