

SHAREHOLDERS LLOYD SCHMIDT AND SEAN COTTLE REPRESENTED URBAN COMMUNITY FUND IN CLOSING FOUR OF SIX DOWNTOWN SAN JOSE PROJECTS FOR $184M

Photo by: Ashley A. Pourroy
Silicon Valley Business Journal

Gary Dillabough, left, and Jeff Arrillaga, co-founders of San Jose-based Urban Community, stand in front of the historic Bank of Italy building (background) in downtown San Jose. Urban Community on Feb. 13, 2020, announced that it had formed a partnership with Vancouver-based luxury developer Westbank Corp. to develop six of its downtown San Jose project sites.

Shareholders Lloyd Schmidt and Sean Cottle represented Urban Community Fund in their partnership with Westbank Corp., assisting with the closing of four of the six sites in downtown San Jose for $184 million.

Congratulations to Urban Community Fund and Westbank Corp., and our thanks to Urban Community Fund for the opportunity!

For more details, click here.

Related Attorneys

- Lloyd A. Schmidt
- Sean A. Cottle