Every successful attorney has to think on their feet and adapt to changing circumstances. Taking depositions is but one example where litigators can benefit from developing their art and skill of improvisation.

Hoge Fenton and ComedySportz (two San Jose legends) have formed an exciting collaboration to bring attorneys a CLE on how to “up your deposition game” through improv. Our objectives are to help litigators be more successful in taking depositions by applying improv skills, while injecting some fun, humor, and interaction into the learning process.
